Courtesy

Students should always practice the elements of courtesy to build up their noble character by showing traits of chivalry, consideration, and generosity to others inside & outside of classes.

Integrity

To enhance one's honor & moral character, one must be able to define right from wrong and have the conscience, if wrong, to admit guilt. Integrity is doing what is right; even if no one sees you do it.

Perseverance

The student must strive to set small and large goals in one's life, and then strive for the patience in reaching the goals & the determination in resisting any obstacles which get in the way of meeting the goals set.

Self-Control

This tenet is extremely important. By having the student show mind & body discipline to exercise a restraint not only in one's actions, but also one's thoughts & emotions in which traits of modesty & humility grow.

Indomitable Spirit

If confronted with an injustice, the serious student will deal with an opponent or obstacle without any fear or hesitation at all, regardless of whosoever, whatsoever, and however many the number may be.
